As always, that night, everyone gathered in the same place... but something happened...

The Pyramid was different: the whole of it was surrounded by an immense golden light.

When this happened, everyone knew that something important was going to be decided... what would it be? - they thought curiously.

The Masters of Light - Kahuna, Shaya and Master Rainbow - appeared at the door of the "Great Crystal Pyramid".

The inhabitants of the "Huakanda Magic Land", being highly evolved, communicated through thought and quickly realized that the issue that worried the Masters of Light was the state of planet Earth! The beautiful Blue Planet was in danger: there were wars, hungry children, pollution and animals suffering.

Mother Earth and Father Sky were suffering... it was urgent to intervene by sending reinforcements to prevent the Planet from being destroyed.

At that moment, everyone looked at Maysa and Okury.

Maysa was a girl with long black hair and green eyes. Like all children in Huakanda, Maysa was very special and had always had in her mind the image of a perfect world, and everyone knew it.

The girl thought a lot about planet Earth and imagined how good it would be if all human beings remembered what they had long forgotten: the reason they were born on Earth.

Okury, a mischievous boy with blond curls, was Maysa's great friend and accompanied her on all her adventures. They were truly inseparable! With her, he shared the dream that everyone on planet Earth would live in peace.

No one had any doubts: Maysa and Okury would help saving planet Earth!

Everyone knew that, to get there, light years from the "Huakanda Magic Land", they would have to go through the "Great Portal" and cross the "Valley of Forgetfulness" - a place where all their memories would be erased.

Arriving on planet Earth, they would gain a physical body and be reborn with the same energy of Light, with the strength to change the world. On their journey they would grow in size and, above all, in LOVE. They would evolve!

To fulfill their mission they would have to conquer the "12 Crystals of Wisdom" and activate the "7 Magical Portals" in their body. Only then would the Planet be saved!

To help them, the "Masters of Light" would send important messages that Maysa and Okury would receive through dreams, during meditations and with the visit of the Great White Crow.

The boys left immediately. There was no time to waste.

Then, the two of them went down, hugging each other, down a huge rainbow-colored slide and arrived on planet Earth, beginning a great adventure.
